

8.0 REFERENCES

1. Austroads (1995) Guide to Traffic Engineering Practice Part 13, Pedestrians.
2. Highway Capacity Manual (1998) Chapter 13
3. S.J. Older (1964) The Speed, Density and Flow of Pedestrians on Footways in Shopping (Streets).
4. S.J. Older (1964), Pedestrians.
5. G.D. Jacobs (1966), A study of Pedestrians Crossing busy roads at night in Central London.
6. A.M. Mackie and G.D. Jacobs (1963), Studies of Panda Crossings. A comparison of road user behavior at Panda, Zebra and Light Controlled Crossings.
7. Lina Shbeeb (2000), Development of a Traffic conflicts technique for different environments. A comparative study of pedestrian conflicts in Sweden and Jordan.
8. Department of the Environment (London) (1973), Pedestrians Safety.
9. Department of Civil Engineering, University of Moratuwa (1991), Transport Planning & Management (In Small Town).
10. P.N. Seneviratna. J.F. Morrall, Canada (1985), Analysis of Factors Affecting the Choice of Route of Pedestrians.
11. Department of Civil Engineering, University of Moratuwa (1995), Pedestrian Analysis in Colombo City.
12. News Paper Articles/ Magazines etc.